Taste Information

A monsooned coffee, unique to India's southwest coast, offering a powerful cup with distinct intense, woody and spicy notes that come mostly from the Robusta part of the blend. Perfectly pairs with milk.

The Story

India's distinctive Robusta monsooning process exposes the coffee beans to monsoonal ocean winds, causing them to swell and dry and transform in flavour. Local craftsmen spend months attending to the drying coffee beans as they develop the renowned spicy flavor and syrupy body you'll taste in this Indian coffee blend.

This Arabica and Robusta blend is exclusively created with beans from India.

We split roast this blend with a medium and slightly short roast, separating Arabicas from Robustas to keep their distinct characteristics alive.
